

The government, in general, should concentrate on defending our nation, paving roads, educating children, and delivering 1st Class mail (questionable monopoly). There should be no legislation passed that would prevent private satellite radio from broadcasting their content to private subscribers. This entity (FCC) has already overextended its reach by targeting broadcasters like Howard Stern. Please back off XM and embrace freedom. Go back and read Adam Smith's, "Wealth of Nations", there is an invisible hand that will take care of this. We do not need your intervention.
